Welcome to our 2017-2018 season.

Putting together a season is always an adventure, as our goal is to present a diverse list of events that will offer artistic enjoyment and challenges, appealing to as wide of an audience as possible. From family favorites to bluegrass legends, award-winning comedians, emerging artists, and more, we strive to present something for everyone on our stage. The upcoming year presents some old favorites, but quite a few newcomers that help us fulfill our mission.

But first, let me give you a heads-up: the opportunity to see a live event in the beautiful, historic, and intimate setting of the Weinberg Center is no longer the secret it once was. Since I arrived here in 2006, annual attendance has grown from 32,000 patrons to more than 74,000 patrons each season. Our last season had more than 25 sold-out performances, and quite a few more nearly reached that mark. The ability to park in a garage attached to the theater, walk into the wonderful downtown area that features unique dining and shopping experiences, see a show at the Weinberg Center, and only then return to your car to go home makes Frederick an ideal destination location. It's one that more and more people in the region are discovering.

How do you guarantee that you get first crack at tickets and avoid seeing a "sold-out" message when you go to buy tickets? It's simple: become a member of the Weinberg Center and support a good cause. These live performances and films are made possible by your contributions. As a not-for-profit, the Weinberg relies on generous donations from individuals and sponsors to help keep the arts accessible and affordable. When you become a member or upgrade your giving, you'll be touching the lives of individuals all over Frederick and beyond.

Whether you're a seasoned regular or new to our venue, I encourage you to try something outside of your comfort zone this season. Discover a new favorite artist in our pay-what-you-want Tivoli Discovery Series, or attend a silent film with live Wurlitzer organ accompaniment. It's all up to you. Whatever events you choose to attend, thank you again for your patronage and support. I sincerely look forward to seeing you at the theater this season.
