FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Travis Tritt in Concert at the Weinberg Center for the Arts October 3rd

FREDERICK, MD, September 10, 2018 — Nearly 30 years after Travis Tritt launched his music career, the Southern rock-influenced artist continues to sell out shows and stay true and relevant to country music fans across the globe. His current concert tour will stop in Frederick Maryland Wednesday, October 3 at 7:00 PM at the Weinberg Center for the Arts.

Tickets begin at $36 and may be purchased online at WeinbergCenter.org, by calling the Box Office at 301.600.2828, or in person at 20 West Patrick St. Discounts are available for students, children, military, and seniors.

The highly abbreviated Tritt timeline started when the young Marietta, Georgia native incorporated his lifelong influences of Southern rock, blues and gospel into his country during a honky-tonk apprenticeship that led him to Warner Bros. in 1989. Over the course of a decade, Travis released seven studio albums and a greatest hits package for the label.

Two years after his debut, Travis' sophomore album, It's All About to Change, was released. Literally speaking, this album changed everything when the album shipped three million copies and all four of its singles reached the top five on the country music charts. Along with his first album, this release became triple-platinum certified by the RIAA.

At the same time, his conspicuous lack of a cowboy hat and musical assertiveness set him apart. The next series of albums, seven of which are certified platinum or higher, scored him more hit singles and led him to amass more than 30 million in career album sales, two Grammys, three CMA Awards and a devoted fan base that has filled venues coast-to-coast.

A complete listing of artists and performers scheduled for the 2018-2019 season can be found at WeinbergCenter.org.
