FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

John Hiatt & The Jerry Douglas Band First New Show Announced for Weinberg Center's 2021-2022 Season

FREDERICK, MD, May 13, 2021 — John Hiatt returns to the Weinberg Center stage with friend and collaborator Jerry Douglas and his band on Friday, November 19, 2021 with a new tour following the release of their album, Leftover Feelings. This is the first new show announced for the Weinberg Center's 2021-2022 Season, with more announcements to follow in the coming weeks and a full season announcement on August 5, 2021.

Tickets for this show start at $39 and may be purchased online at WeinbergCenter.org or by calling the box office at 301-600-2828. Tickets go on sale to Weinberg Center Members at 10:00 AM on May 20, 2021 and to the general public on May 27, 2021 at 10:00 AM.

John Hiatt with The Jerry Douglas Band will release Leftover Feelings on May 21st via New West Records. The 11-song set was produced by Jerry Douglas and recorded at Historic RCA Studio B in Nashville, Tenn. A meeting of two American music giants in a legendary setting, Leftover Feelings is neither a bluegrass album nor a return to Hiatt's 1980s days with slide guitar greats Ry Cooder and Sonny Landreth. There's no drummer, yet these grooves are deep and true. And while the up-tempo songs are, as ever, filled with delightful internal rhyme and sly aggression, The Jerry Douglas Band's empathetic musicianship nudges Hiatt to performances that are startlingly vulnerable. The album release is followed by a national tour starting in late August and running through the end of 2021.
